West Nile Virus Confirmed in a Pool of Mosquitoes in Southington PSHD Reminds Residents to Follow Personal Protection Measures

The State Mosquito Management Program confirmed that mosquitoes trapped in Southington have tested positive for West Nile Virus (WNV). These are the first positive mosquitoes in town identified by the Connecticut Agricultural Experiment Station (CAES) this year. The Plainville Southington Health District (PSHD) encourages residents to take personal and homeowner precautions to limit their exposure to mosquitoes, particularly in the hours around dusk and dawn.

“The identification of mosquitoes carrying WNV is no surprise,” said Shane Lockwood, PSHD Director of Health. “We expect to continue to see positive mosquitoes throughout the state over the next few months. Vigilance in removing standing water on residential and town-owned property can decrease one’s chances of contracting WNV.”

To prevent WNV:

- Limit outdoor activities from dusk to dawn when mosquitoes are most active.
- Wear clothing that minimizes bare skin.
- Use mosquito repellents on clothing.

- Follow the directions on labels for insecticides or repellents.
- Cover arms and legs of children playing near standing water.
- Cover playpens or carriages with mosquito netting.
- Remove objects that can hold standing water such as tin cans, tires, buckets, or bottles.
- Fill in holes, ditches, or tree trunks with sand or cement.
- Clean house gutters on a regular basis.
- Empty wading pools and bird baths every 4-7 days.
- Chlorinate swimming pools regularly.
- Eliminate collected water on boat and pool covers.
- Avoid over-watering of lawns.
- Fix holes in screens and attach properly to windows.
